WORK HISTORY

ePIC Blockchain

May 2022 – Sept 2023

Software Engineer Intern

North York, ON

- Developed Blockchain ASIC software, created and improved Miner API using Rust.
  - Added discrete and real-time hashrate calculations using data collected from ASIC miners.
  - Implemented RESTful API features that allows pushing and pulling data from various sensors on the miner, such as network info, hashrate, and temperatures.
- Tested and developed an automatic testing suite for ASIC miner software using Rust.
  - Created a new project, designed, and implemented a CLI to run the tests.
  - Developed and refined tests in cooperation with the API team, by updating and creating new tests whenever the API interface was modified.
  - Developed tests for multiple models of miners, ensuring test parameters are modified to be compatible with each ASIC model.
- Designed and built front-end UI for ASIC miners using Electron, React.js and MaterialUI.
  - Modified elements on webdash and dashboard using customer feedback to increase usability and accessibility.
  - Ensured webdash supports backwards compatibility with older ASIC miner models.
- Disassembled ASIC miners for testing and debugging by diagnosing dead hashboards and reassembling working machines to be delivered to customers.
